Data Excellence (DX)

Addressing the intersection between Content, Technology and Users as part of a data-driven culture

- Major rights processing improvements
 - Goal to reduce processing time to 24-48 hours
 - Decreased turnaround from 48-72 hours to below 35 hours
 - Additional improvements in progress throughout 2022
- Supporting  Quicklinks
 - Quicker access and fewer click with direct linking to HTML/PDF pages
 - 20 providers already supported, with over 10,000 collections
 - Additional providers planned throughout 2022 and 2023
- Collaborating with the CDI Advisory Group
- ...and more!

New Summon User Experience

From Current

The screenshot shows the current Summon search results for 'adhd'. The interface includes a search bar with 'adhd' entered, a 'New Search' button, and an 'Advanced' search link. On the left, there is a sidebar with navigation options: 'LIBRARY LOCATION', 'DISCIPLINE', 'SUBJECT TERMS', 'DATABASE', 'NEW RECORDS', 'AUTHOR', and 'LANGUAGE'. The main content area displays a list of search results. Each result includes a thumbnail, a title, authors, and publication information. For example, the first result is 'Attention and inhibition in children with ASD, ADHD and co-morbid ASD + ADHD: an event-related potential study' by Park, J., Johnson, S., Johnson, S.L., et al., published in 'Psychological medicine' in 2014. The interface is cluttered with various icons and links for each result.

To New

The screenshot shows the new University Library search results for 'adhd'. The interface is cleaner and more organized. At the top, there is a search bar with 'adhd' and a 'New Search' button. Below the search bar, there are filters for 'OPEN ACCESS', 'PUBLICATION DATE', 'CONTENT TYPE', 'AUTHOR', and 'DATABASE'. The search results are displayed in a list format, with each result showing a thumbnail, title, authors, and publication information. The first result is 'Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD): Interaction between socioeconomic status and parental history of ADHD' by Rowland, Andrew S., Skuse, Beth J., Rabiner, David I., et al., published in 'Journal of child psychology and psychiatry' in 2018. The interface is more user-friendly and provides more context for each result.

How do I opt-in?

Set up is done in Alma and is a very simple process taking a few minutes.

The set up consists of letting people know who you are, where to find you and what you are able to loan.

Help make resource sharing open and accessible by joining the Exlibris Resource Sharing Directory!

Any Alma library can easily opt into a Data Sharing Profile to let other libraries know how they can interact with your platform.

RESOURCE SHARING

Confirm making holdings information of my institution searchable and visible to other Alma and Rapido institutions for purposes of availability and requestability of items for resource sharing. This could provide an opportunity for your institution to establish new resource sharing partnerships and networks with other institutions that agree to do so. Allowing your institution's holdings information to be shared for this purpose does not mean that your institution is required to allow resource sharing with any other institutions. None of your users' personal data is used. *

Edouard Manet Paintings

As an impressionist artist, Manet's predominantly consisted of Parisian life. Female nudes were often the subjects of Manet and many a time caused much controversy. What set Manet apart from his contemporaries was that he had a unique style of painting. He also did not attend any impressionist exhibitions in Paris. Manet preferred to capture everyday life and common objects in his paintings. The cafes and bars of Paris, the city and urban life, the street, and its people: buggies, engines, workers, were common in Manet's paintings. His brush strokes were loose and therefore some parts of the canvas were not properly covered, which made the critics comment on his work that it looks unfinished. Some of Manet's famous paintings include Luncheon in the Studio, Concert in the Tuileries Gardens, A Bar at the Folies-Bergere, Portrait of Berthe Morisot, Concert in the Tuileries Gardens and Roadmen in the Rue de Berny.

Claude Monet Paintings 1824-1940

Claude Monet Paintings

Monet is considered to be one of the founding fathers of Impressionism. Monet loved to paint in the open air and capture in his paintings the natural light. Figures are rendered by light and atmosphere as subjects of Monet's paintings. He was not interested in conforming to the notions of conventional art that he went on to defy them by experimenting with art. Bold colors and unusual compositions were all present in Monet's paintings. He used broader fields of color and stiffer stroke of paint and worked with complementary and contrasting hues. As a landscape artist, Monet was heavily influenced by John Constable and Joseph Mallord William Turner, both landscape painters and this furthered Monet's interest in landscape painting. Water lilies, impression, Rouen Cathedral series, The Haystacks, Woman in the green dress, are some of his notable works.
