Students Considering 'Stopping'

- While COVID-19 has become less of a burden, emotional stress remains one for most students.
- It takes a heavier toll on bachelor's degree students, female students, and those from low-income households.

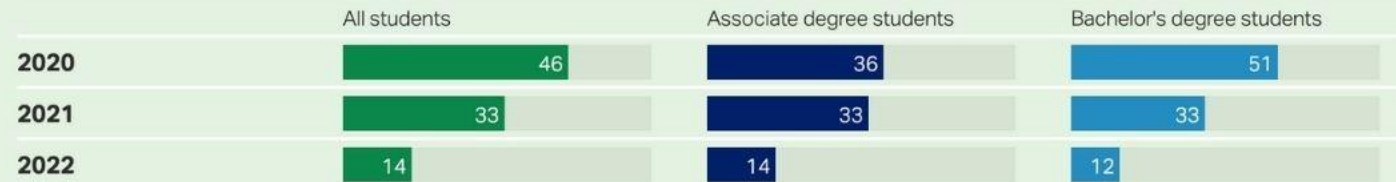

Percentages of U.S. Postsecondary Students Who Have Considered "Stopping Out" Due to Emotional Stress vs. COVID-19

Which of the following describes why you considered stopping your coursework?

% Emotional stress

% COVID-19

Results are among students who say they have considered stopping out in the past six months. "All students" reported in this chart includes students pursuing an associate degree, bachelor's degree, certificate or certification. Results for certificate or certification students are not shown.

NU LibGuides Ingest Procedure

- Northwestern University's "LibGuides in Primo" has two features worth noting.

First, the LibGuides detail record (shown in the DETAIL tab) contains the name of the LibGuide maintainer.

Thus, anyone with a question about a particular LibGuide knows who the librarian is in order to ask questions.

Second, that the LibGuide be viewable within the VIEW ONLINE tab.

Attached to this bog entry is our procedure for ingesting LibGuides.

OAI-PMH

Harvest and add LibGuides metadata to your third-party application using the OAI-PMH protocol. For more information on OAI-PMH, see <http://www.openarchives.org/OAI/2.0/openarchivesprotocol.htm>.

Your base OAI-PMH URL is:

http://springylib.libguides.com/oai.php

LibGuides supports the standard oai_dc metadata format. Use your base URL (shown above) along with the 6 standard OAI-PMH requests to retrieve metadata from your published LibGuides in XML format. Here are a few example requests:

URL	Description
<pre>http://springylib.libguides.com/oai.php</pre>	Base URL for OAI-PMH repository
<pre>http://springylib.libguides.com/oai.php?verb=Identify</pre>	Display information about this repository
<pre>http://springylib.libguides.com/oai.php?verb=ListRecords&metadataPrefix=oai_dc</pre>	Display all records in the oai_dc metadata format
<pre>http://springylib.libguides.com/oai.php?verb=ListRecords&metadataPrefix=oai_dc&set=guides</pre>	Display all guides in the oai_dc metadata format
<pre>http://springylib.libguides.com/oai.php?verb=ListRecords&metadataPrefix=oai_dc&set=az</pre>	Display all A-Z records in the oai_dc metadata format
<pre>http://springylib.libguides.com/oai.php?verb=ListRecords&metadataPrefix=oai_dc&set=er_courses</pre>	Display all ER Courses in the oai_dc metadata format (E-Reserves module required)

Want to add more DC fields for your guides? Add any of the supported elements to your guides using Guide Custom Metadata (LibGuides CMS only). See <http://dublincore.org/documents/dces/> for supported elements. Only elements in the dc.element format are supported, and metadata must be public to appear in the feed. Metadata can be imported in bulk at Admin > Metadata & URLs.

Alma/Primo Inside LibCal

Alma-into-LibCal (1-Way Sync)

If you have access to the Alma API, you can synchronize your library's hours in Alma with LibCal Hours.

- The Alma integration allows you to select specific libraries and/or departments in your LibCal Hours module with a library's hours from your Alma system.
- This creates a one-way sync with Alma: when a library or department is linked to Alma, you will not be able to edit its hours or exceptions in LibCal.
- When LibCal syncs with Alma, it will fetch the next 6 months of hours data and update your linked libraries & departments accordingly.
- LibCal syncs automatically with Alma every 3 days, though you can also manually re-sync a library or department's hours at any time in your Alma Integration settings in LibCal.

Florida Gulf University

I think it will be a great tool for fundraising and getting the word out about events.

We plan to use it judiciously so we don't kill people's inboxes, but we are building email lists now for the future.

On March 15th-16th, the FCGU Archives and Special Collections will be participating as a peer-to-peer fundraiser during FCGU's Give Day 2023. Your gift will support our mission to develop archival collections that equally represent all communities that reside in Southwest Florida. Your funds will enable us to spur crucial conversations and scholarship while contributing to the historical record and deliver diverse and inclusive educational programming to the FCGU campus and beyond.
